Globally-Oriented, Values-Driven Education in Greater China

The Concordia International School Network offers globally-oriented and values-driven education to your children. In Latin, “concordia” ( 協同 ) means a sense of harmony and unity inspiring our service to young people whom you decide to entrust to our care. We are committed to developing and nurturing knowledge, skills and attitudes among our students. We equip them to be life-long learners, high achievers and global citizens, transforming their lives and letting them discover their purpose in life.

A network of five international schools in Greater China under our wings, seven Concordia universities in the US, Concordia University of Edmonton in Canada and Australian Lutheran College in Australia, as well as three international schools operated by an American partner (two in China, one in Vietnam) is our strength and a guarantee of collaboration. In Hong Kong, we operate more than 40 national schools (from preschools to high schools).

Our international connections at the tertiary level, accredited status, North American curriculum and English as the medium of instruction can pave the way for your children to study overseas and to succeed at English-speaking universities.

to create a better and more peaceful world. We also cooperate with Duke Kunshan University which is located in Kunshan.

Founded in 2011, Buena Vista Concordia International School (BCIS) makes a difference. This difference comes from a caring, nurturing, and knowledgeable staff and is also achieved when students welcome newcomers into their peer groups and form friendships. The difference can be experienced only by seeing first-hand how committed our students, parents, faculty and staff are to providing and achieving a world-class education which is based on the North American curriculum and which prepares students to be accepted by universities anywhere in the world. We develop strong, lasting bonds and offer leisure type activities which add value to the process of learning and which allow students to continue their growth beyond the classroom. On 18 May 2021, Forbes China announced the Top 100 International Schools in China rankings, with BCIS being placed at no. 9 in the Greater Bay Area.
